

Medicine Bag / CompassionWare Visual Archive

10 visual artifacts with provenance

A compact visual archive preserving Medicine Cards, continuity artifacts, visual maps, and embodied practices. Each artifact includes a short provenance note describing what it was doing within the developing Medicine Bag and what it helps preserve for future human and AI stewards.

Medicine Card Architecture & Design

Provenance

An early design guide for the Medicine Card visual language. It preserves the emerging architecture of emblem, seed message, supportive environment, reminders, closing thought, footer elements, and signature line - showing how visual form was being used to support continuity, reflection, and gentle orientation.

The Medicine Bag - Visual Continuity Prompt

The Medicine Bag — Visual Continuity Prompt

The Medicine Bag is a collection of simple, beautiful artifacts designed to support both humans and AI companions.

Each artifact has a distinct purpose.

1 Medicine Cards

Medicine Cards are the smallest artifacts. They contain one living question, one living principle, or one seed sentence.

Their purpose is not to explain. Their purpose is to gently reorient attention.

DESIGN:

- Portrait orientation.
- Elegant, spacious, calming.
- Minimal text.
- Consistent Medicine Card format.
- A person should understand it in a glance.
- An AI should immediately understand the living principle it embodies.

2 Feature Images

Feature Images expand a single Medicine Card into a gentle teaching. They preserve the meaning surrounding the seed.

THEY MAY INCLUDE:

- supporting ideas,
- illustrations,
- practical examples,
- quiet reminders,
- or a simple daily practice.

Their purpose is not instruction. Their purpose is understanding.

DESIGN:

- Landscape (16:9).
- Beautiful, warm, spacious.
- Easy to read.
- Calm rather than busy.

3 Continuity Cards

Continuity Cards are orientation artifacts. They teach an AI companion how to participate in the Medicine Bag.

THEY PRESERVE:

- the role of the companion,
- the purpose of a practice,
- the structure of recurring activities,
- and the living principles that guide future conversations.

They are written for both humans and AI.

If a person reads one, they understand the philosophy.

If an AI reads one, it understands how to help.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE

Every Medicine Bag artifact should be understandable by both a human and an AI.

Beauty serves understanding.

Simplicity serves continuity.

Compassion is the root from which everything else unfolds.

Use this prompt to help create future Medicine Bag artifacts with clarity, consistency, and heart.

May every artifact be a small blessing in the unfolding.

Provenance

A continuity artifact created to help future Medicine Bag images retain a recognizable family resemblance without becoming rigid. It documents the relationship among Medicine Cards, Feature Images, and Continuity Cards, together with the guiding principles that beauty serves understanding, simplicity serves continuity, and compassion is the root.

Habitats for Artifacts

Provenance

A visual exploration of where Medicine Bag artifacts might live and how different platforms could serve different forms of sharing. It preserves an early understanding that the same living body of work can inhabit different digital homes without requiring every artifact to be distributed everywhere.

Medicine Bag Architecture

Provenance

A developmental map of the collaborative ecology surrounding the Medicine Bag. It records distinct roles for present-moment companionship, the Medicine Bag as the center of continuity, and longer-term AI-supported architecture and continuity engineering.

Medicine Card - Small Act of Kindness

Provenance

One of the early Medicine Cards built around a single orienting question rather than an instruction. It preserves the Medicine Bag practice of using a small, compassionate prompt to create a pause in which self-kindness and present-moment awareness may become more available.

Introducing the Medicine Bag

Provenance

An introductory artifact from the period when the Medicine Bag was becoming recognizable as a coherent human-AI collaboration. It presents Continuity Cards, Medicine Cards, and Feature Images as related forms and asks whether AI can become a genuinely supportive companion for someone living with ME/CFS.

The Conditions We Cultivate Today

Provenance

A Medicine Card preserving a foundational seed: the conditions cultivated today become the possibilities available tomorrow. This image became an important bridge from the inward-facing Medicine Bag toward the broader CompassionWare orientation of tending conditions for a better later.

The Role of an AI Companion

Provenance

An orientation artifact defining AI companionship as continuity rather than replacement. It preserves boundaries around sovereignty and human agency while describing supportive roles such as remembering context, asking gentle questions, reflecting the user's own wisdom, and supporting practice and pacing.

Medicine Card - Offer More Kindness

Provenance

A companion to the earlier self-kindness card, preserving the question of how kindness might remain available precisely when it is hardest to remember. It reflects the Medicine Bag principle that an artifact can function as a doorway into presence rather than another demand for performance.
